DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-12, 21-28, 47-50 and 61-76, drawn to a method of producing a hybrid cell expressing an ectopic telomerase gene, classified in class 435, subclass 455.
- II. Claims 13-19, 29-46, 51-54, 59 and 60, drawn to a hybrid cell, classified in class 435, subclass 70.2.
- III. Claim 20, drawn to an antibody, classified in class 530, subclass 387.1.
- IV. Claims 55-58, drawn to a method of making monoclonal antibodies, classified in class 435, subclass 326.
- V. Claims 77-81, drawn to a DNA construct, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions the different methods are drawn to different goals and require different ingredients to carry out each method. The effect of the method of group I is drawn to a method of making a hybrid cell, while the effect of the method of group IV is drawn to a method of making antibodies. Therefore, each of the methods have different effects and different functions.

Inventions II, III, V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to structurally and functionally unrelated products. The hybrid cell of group II has a different function, activity and structure from the antibody of group III and the DNA construct of group V. In addition, the DNA construct of group V comprises completely different structural components from the antibody of group III. These different structural components render each of the molecules within each group functionally divergent.

Inventions III and IV are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the antibody can be made by synthetic methods. Alternatively, the method can be used to make different monoclonal antibodies that are specific for different substrates.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
